CITIZENS: YOUR ROLE IN 1957

What's ahead for Daly City in 1957?

If you, as a citizen, place importance on this question, there'll be a lot ahead in 1957.

But if the question is immaterial to you and other residents, Daly City's future can be dismal.

The year ahead will see the city undertaking major capital outlay projects, hiring new personnel for heretofore non-existent jobs and considering ways and means of producing new revenue to provide facilities for a community that is growing much faster than its bank account.

The new facilities that are built will affect your everyday living, recreational and cultural activities and all the city's business will affect your pocketbook.

The year 1957 looms as a period of even more severe growing pains for Daly City—both physically and policy-wise.

Decisions will be made on issues of vital import in 1957, i.e., possible sales tax, bond issues, major revision of the business license permit fee, garbage disposal, and many others which will have great bearing on the citizens' economic and social welfare in this next year and years to come.

Groundwork has been laid for many of these sweeping changes and innovations. No alert citizen can complain that he has been uninformed about the issues.

But a great majority of Daly City residents will be noticeably absent when important policy matters are decided. We realize that numerous conscientious citizens can't be present at all the myriad governmental sessions.

But they can be informed on the issues and keep in contact with persons who are personally active in government.

Elected officials usually like to keep a finger on the electorate's pulse to determine what policies meet with the popular acclaim.

But when there is only apathy that pulse is sorrowfully weak and therefore the councilmen deduce that their policies are greeted favorably by the absence of any apparent opposition.

This should not be so.

We can envision a year of progress and prosperity for Daly City in 1957. We can see Daly City growing in stature as a stable, yet progressive community of citizens vigorously active in building a better government and better city.

But we cannot envision these things if more Daly City citizens do not come out from behind the wall of animosity, petty jealousies, apathy and downright ignorance of their city government.

No five men comprising a council know all the answers. And many times their decisions are wrong.

The obligation to help make these decisions right and work purposefully to correct the errors already made rests solely on the citizenry. Then, if their efforts are not heeded, the democratic process of election can remedy the wrongs.

Troop 243 Lauds Paper's Help In 'Search For Stars'

Dear Editor:

I wish to express to you, on behalf of Troop 243, Troop 243 Council, our sponsors, the OLPH Men's Club, and personally, our sincere appreciation and gratitude for the wonderful advertising and wide-spread publicity you have given the "Search For Stars" program, which was presented by San Francisco Moose Lodge No. 26 for the benefit of Troop 243, Boy Scouts of America, the evening of December 15 in the OLPH School auditorium.

Your most generous cooperation in this matter, and pages of advertising were certainly responsible to a great extent for the financial success of the program. Through your kindness and generosity our local Troop 243 has secured a nice financial boost.

Every Scout in Troop 243 and every member of Troop 243's Council joins me in saying "thank you."

Sincerely,
James Goulden
Chairman, Troop 243

Boys' Center Leader Praises THE RECORD

Dear Editor:

The more than 100 youngsters living at Hanna Boys' Center join me in thanking you and your associates for your interest and support during the past year.

Since voluntary contributions make up the principal support of our little "boys' town," the help of THE RECORD in publicizing our activities has helped us toward our goal of accepting additional boys of all races and creeds. Thank you again, and God bless you.

Sincerely,
Rt. Rev. W. L. O'Connor

Leathernecks Say Thanks To Backers Of 'Toys For Tots'

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

A great many children of our local communities enjoyed a Merry Christmas this year complete with unexpected dolls, games and other toys because of the warm-hearted response of the people of Daly City to the Marine Corps Reserve's "Toys For Tots" program.

Deserving of special commendation are the children of our local elementary public schools who gave so generously so that other less fortunate children might share in the joy of Christmas that is their rightful heritage.

We also would like to thank those organizations and individuals who joined in Operation Santa Claus and were unsparing of their time and efforts in insuring that Toys For Tots were distributed to the deserving children of our community.

Those of us in the 7th Infantry Battalion, United States Marine Corps Reserve, wish we could thank everyone personally who donated and cooperated in this year's Toys For Tots program. We extend a standing invitation to visit us anytime at our Training Center at the Tanforan Navy Base located opposite Tanforan Race Track in San Bruno.

Sincerely yours,
T. M. Leineweber
Lieutenant Colonel
U. S. Marine Corps

PEAK optimism was expressed by these three members of the city library commission this week as they examined the site of the $80,000 Westlake branch on Southgate avenue near the Ocean Shore railway "hump." Giving the one-third acre site the once-over (left to right) are Mrs. Grace Woods, Dr. Lionel Farber and Francis Pacelli. Commissioners last week approved purchase of the property from Henry Doelger Builder Inc. at a cost of $20,000. Their action is subject to appraisal of site, which consists of 17,000 square feet, 175 feet of which is frontage on Southgate. Construction of the "much needed" brnach will begin sometime next year, according to City Manager Howard Stites.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

The past weeks have been pretty bleak, full of long-run plays which we had already seen, second-rate films and in two or three desperate situations, unbelievably bad releases. For us, this was just as well. Returning from vacation, we were faced with the two-day job of sorting our mail. Then we had to cope with Christmas, and we don't mind telling you that at one point we had had it.

That's all behind us now, and a glance at the theatrical pages shows that all the goodies weren't hung on the Christmas tree, quite a few have been kept for after-Christmas nibbling. After the famine, we're going to have the feast. This is just fine for the daily reviewer, but it's sheer frustration for the weekly columnist.

Fortunately, most of the attractions seem scheduled for long runs, giving us time to take them all in. We intend to see the following, and week-by-week you'll receive our progress report, complete with opinions.

Amazing Cast

Mike Todd's spectacular "Around the World in 80 Days," photographed in Technicolor in the famous Todd-AO process, which includes a very wide, curved screen, and a multitrack sound system, begins an exclusive Northern California engagement at the Coronet Theater, tonight.

The production of the Jules Verne classis tells how Phileas Fogg circled the globe in record-breaking time (for 1872) in order to win a bet with his London cronies. As filmed by Todd, David Niven plays Fogg and during his journey meets the most amazing group of stars in small roles that have ever been assembled in one film.

As one of the trade papers remarked during the time Todd was lining up his astounding cast: "Every once in a while a day goes by when Mike Todd doesn't sign someone for his 'Around The World in 80 Days'."

Post-Xmas Bauble

Despite some obnoxious advertising, we also intend to see "Baby Doll," a tale of the decayed South which (to quote Kazan) pictures things "Not the way they should be. Not the way they will some day be. But the way they appeared to me there and then."

"A Hatful of Rain," opening at the Alcazar today is billed as a "comedy-drama." A lot can happen to a production between New York and San Francisco, but it would seem there's very little comedy in "Rain."

"The Sleeping Prince" opens this Thursday at the Geary. It has one of those improbable plots reiminiscent of George Barr McCutcheon. It's just a fairy tale for grown-ups, but you in the theater, you can believe in it, and forget today's realities—checked at the

Something For Everyone

The recent visit of Primer Minister Jawaharal Nehru of India to the United States has focussed attention on India and its people. The Daly City Public Library and its Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library have numerous books and magazine articles on present-day India, as well as some of the older works.

Recent books describing India's people and customs include Robert Trumbull's AS I SEE INDIA, Arthur Stratton's ONE MAN'S INDIA, Eleanor Roosevelt's INDIA AND THE AWAKENING EAST, and Cynthia Bowles' AT HOME IN INDIA. Cynthia Bowles' father, Chester Bowles, our former ambassador to India, has written AMBASSADOR'S REPORT, which covers his two-and-one-half year stay there.

Norah Burke's JUNGLE CHILD recounts her early life in India, and MAHARANI, THE STORY OF AN INDIAN PRINCESS, by Brinda, Maharani of Kapurthala, gives an intimate account of the royal upbringing of a firl betrothed as a child to one of her country's most wealthy princes. Such older titles as HERE IS INDIA, by Jean Kennedy and THE LAND AND PEOPLE OF INDIA, by Manorama Modak, are also available, as many books for younger readers.

Frank Moraes' exhaustive new biography, JAWAHARLAL NEHRU, is one of the most highly-reviewed books of the recent publishing season, and THE GANDHI READER, edited by Homer A. Jack, gives a remarkable amount of background information, both about Gandhi the man and his great work.

India has been the setting for some of the best and most popular fiction of the past few seasons, too. David Walker's HARRY BLACK combines a tiger hunt with an intriguing love story, while Jon Godden's THE SEVEN ISLANDS is a delicately-etched portrait of a sadhu, or holy man, living on one of seven islands in the Ganges.

One of India's own writers, Anand Lall, has recently produced THE HOUSE AT ADAMPUR, which has made quite a stir among American critics, as has Kamala Markandaya's SOME INNER FURY. The latter author will be remembered for the very popular NECTAR IN A SIEVE, which was published a few years ago. Another very popular Indian author is Santha Rama Rau, who frequently contributes to American periodicals: her latest novel is REMEMBER THE HOUSE.

These and other books on India and the East, as well as many fine magazine articles, are available at the Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission street, or the Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive.

MOVE TRANSMITTER . . . Into the Radiation Laboratory . . . onto aircraft carriers . . . down into studio control rooms . . . and now up, in fact up to one of the highest points in San Francisco! As we stood on the 16th floor balcony of the Mark Hopkins Hotel and gazed over the vast panorama below, we could not help but think about the unusual places we find ourselves in search of a story. It had been suggested that we could go higher, but we settled for the 16th floor where we could watch the mammoth job of removing KQED transmitter and antenna from atop the hotel to San Bruno Mountain. The equipment, weighing tons of gigantic proportions, was lowered to the balcony and then down the side of the building by means of hugh cables and ropes.

This step is a momentous one in KQED's history, and will prove to be particularly advantageous to viewers in this vicinity. In talking to General Manager James Day, he said, "We are especially grateful to the many workers and volunteers from your area. Their role in KQED activities has contributed toward this major step in moving our transmitter. When KQED starts telecasting from this new site, reception will be materially improved in your area. Although this progress costs money, we hope that better reception of Channel 9 means new audiences and therefore increased viewer support."

KQED is now off the air during this move, and telecasting will be resumed on Monday, January 7. A special service free-of-charge is being offered KQED's members. Television service guilds of the Bay Area, including San Mateo County, will send a repairman to a member's home to advise on what changes, if any, are necessary to receive Channel 9 with an estimate of costs. Viewers may telephone KQED, Sutter 1-8861, for more information about this service.

KIDDIES' CORNER . . . One of the best Christmas presents that KPIX could give its young viewers, we believe, is the return of the excellent television program for pre-school youngsters, "Adventure School," with hostess Marian Koehler Rowe. Returning to Channel 5 this Christmas week, the program will be shown daily Monday through Friday at 10 a.m. Mrs. Rowe does an outstanding job of entertaining the little tots as well as instructing them in activities, rhythm games and songs.

AWARD TO KRON-TV . . . Announcement was made recently that the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation had presented its national award for 1956 to KRON-TV as the nation's outstanding local television station for best serving the interest of youth in the community. Two programs that contributed greatly toward receiving this award were "Science in Action" (Mondays, 7p.m.) and "Explorers of Tomorrow" (Saturdays, 1 p.m.) One of our community's leading residents, Dr. Earl of Westlake, is host for both programs.

County's Xmas Seal Sales Hits $60,000; Deadline March 31

Christmas may be over, but Christmas Seals are still usable, according to Anthony Gaggero, Daly City's seal sale chairman.

He reports that the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association has received $60,000, or 75 per cent of its $80,000 goal. The Christmas Seal sale will not end officially until March 31.

"In the rush of the holiday season, many people have put off mailing in their contribution for the anti-tuberculosis seals," Gaggero said. "But it isn't too late to send in your donation now to help insure your family's health."

AIR FORCE Staff Sergeant Fred G. Hanel Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Hanel, 223 Miriam street, recently graduated from the Travis AFB Non-Commissioned Officers School. A top member of the 5th Armament and Electronics Squadron, Sergeant Hanel resides with his wife, the former Miss Corazon, Jalipa, Philippine Islands, and their daughters, Mary Lou, 9, and Jeanette, 5, at the air base.

News From Here & There

By Eleanor Doyle

Seems as though my Christmas wish to one and all was omitted from the end of my column last week, so maybe if I start my column this week with my wish for a New Year it may be printed.

May the New Year bring happiness,
A wealth of joy and cheer,
Enough to brighten every day
That goes to make a year.

A new heir and second son has taken up residency with the ALBERT DELFINOS on Abbot. Master Michael Andrew made his debut by way of the UC hospital, tipping the scales at six pounds, two ounces on December 11. He has a big brother, James, who is two. The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Laessig of Wausau, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Rose Molina of San Francisco.

The boys' grandmother, Mrs. Laessig, came out from Wausau for the special event and to enjoy the holidays with them.

Last Saturday evening MARCELLA SANTOS gave a surprise birthday "Bop Party" at her home on Willits for two of her friends, Wanda Scagg[illegible] Woodrow and Paula Distol of Peoria. Guests were: Lauri Larkin, Richard Montoya, Chuck Hunley, Walt Moreles, Victor and Janet Martinez.

At their recent Christmas meeting, MRS. JOSEPHINE PUTKEY of Orange was elected to serve as president and secretary-treasurer for the Orangettes Club in Callen Heights. During the holidays this group has been busy preparing and donating food baskets for needy families in the community.

Santa found another stocking to fill this year at the home of the MAX ROTHES on C street, Colma, with the arrival of nine pound, eight ounce Deric Evan at French hospital on December 8. The new addition is the brother of Mark, five and a half, and Theresa, three and a half.

The proud grandparents, who live on Montrose drive in Westlake, are Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Kendree and Mrs. Gladys Rothe of Fresno.

To mark her ninth birthday in grand style, LINDA CHRISTEN invited some extra special friends to her home on Crocker avenue to share in the party festivities. Guests for this occasion were: Laura Nail, Margie Marchon, Karen Brown, Toni Nemia, Linda Richmond, Janey Ramey and Linda's brother, Master Bobby, who had himself a ball—being the only male at the party.

The members of the Friendly Neighbors club on Abbot celebrated their annual Christmas party and gift exchanging one night last week at the home of MRS. WILMA VAN AKEN. The members then surprised Mrs. Pat Urbanos with a stroller for the (fifth) expectant heir, plus a birthday gift for Pat's added year.

The following day the members' children observed their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Doris Olmanson on Bismark, with Mrs. Santa Claus (Gerry Vickers) arriving with a bag full of toys for the children.

The cub scouts in Den 6 of Pack 243 had a super time on a recent Sunday afternoon when they were able to witness the last game of the season for the 49'ers at Kezar. The lucky boys were: Bobby Dunn, Wayne Snow, Jerry Senkir, Richard O'Toole, Steven Wallace, Billy Willoughby and Michael Steele. The brave fathers who accompanied the boys were Mr. Steele and Mr. O'Toole.

Belated anniversary wishes to . . . Gene and Joyce Frasu of Muirwood drive for their ninth year as Mr. and Mrs. . . . while the Vickers, Sanford and Gerry, of Abbot just a few days ago observed their eighteenth since their first "I do's."

At this time of the year when cancelled stamps are so plentiful, an urgent appeal is once again being made not to discard them, but instead please send them to Miss Eva Griffths at 763 Mason, San Francisco, or to Mrs. Ann Ingersoll, 439 Crocker avenue. For more information you may call Mrs. Ingersoll at JU 7-5350, or your reporter. This would be a very worthy cause for many clubs throughout the city to adopt.

Tracy Lynn is the name of the first child of the HARLAN HOCKENS of Belmar avenue. This little miss made her first appearance at the Kaiser hospital December seventh, weighing in at seven pounds, four ounces. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Mix and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hocken, both of Corte Madera. Great grandmothers are Mrs. Etta Hocken of Winthrop, Iowa, and Mrs. Effie Huff of Enid, Oklahoma.

Last Saturday evening the LAEIGHTON SALTSGAVERS hosted an informal pre-Christmas dinner party for some of their old friends at their home on Lausanne. Dinner guests were: the Rex Brittons, the C. Whites, the Stanley Bombas, the Walt Higgins, Mr. George Britton and Mr. Gilbert Gibson.

MARGORY GODFREY observed her fourteenth birthday by entertaining some friends and classmates at a luncheon party at her home on Orange, followed by a theatre party later in the afternoon. Helping Marg celebrate the added year were: Beverly Donaghy, Donna Dunham, Terri Obradovich, Hazel Ockenfels, Norma North, Anita Burch and Sue Woolery.

The Godfreys recently enjoyed a weekend visit with his parents, the EVERETT WILSONS, and many relatives in Sacramento at a pre-Christmas celebration—a family tradition that has been observed for many, many years.

Many happy returns . . . but belated wishes to . . . Kay Curtis and Pete Edgeman of B street, Colma . . . Mr. Stanley White on Wyandotte . . . Jack Klinger on Niantic . . . Valerie Fontana of Adler, who just celebrated her first year . . . the same amount was also claimed by Joseph Louis Muzio of Willits . . . and Carol Ann Taylor on Hillside . . . the Stark twins, Beverly and Lynett, and Mrs. Marilyn Mafrice, all residents of Lausanne. . . . Abbot seems to be having its share of birthdays also . . . Diane Ames . . . John Ornellas . . . Jake Jacobson and Fern Lawrence.

Happy birthday wishes go to Jon Leon Saltsgaver on Lausanne, who will be celebrating his third birthday this Saturday. January third is going to be a big day for Miss Laureen Marie Dianda of Abbot, who will be huffing puffing away at her very first birthday cake.

MR. and MRS. JAMES DIRENZO on San Joaquin recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Janet Cirimele, to Dan Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Boyd of Westbrook avenue in Westlake.

The future bride-to-be attended OLPH school and is a '55 graduate of Immaculate Conception Academy. She is currently employed by the Southern Pacific and has a twin brother, Frank, now home on furlough from San Diego.

The benedict elect is a graduate of Washington High, attended City College and the University of California, and is now employed by Town and County Food Center at Westlake.

The couple are planning a June wedding, but no definite date has been decided upon.

Hope you have all had a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Very Happy New Year to one and all, especially to the nice people who have helped me throughout the year to bring you news from here and there.

Francis To Ask Knife Ban Law By Legislature

A state law making it unlawful for any person to carry a concealed switch blade, spring blade, snap blade or any knife longer than 3½ inches will be introduced to the state legislature next month by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo.

Any individual convicted under this law will be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than a year, or both.

The bill also would make it unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, loan, transfer, or give any switch blade knife to any other person.

Francis also will introduce legislation authorizing cities and counties to establish funds for the payment of rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons who unlawfully dump garbage and refuse on public roads and private property. The county board of supervisors requested this legislation at their December 18 meeting.

The Navy policy of employing the physically handicapped on the same basis as the able-bodied has worked out very successfully in the Overhaul and Repair Department at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas. Of the 3,000 employees, some 300 are physically handicapped. Each is doing his work with precision—and with great courage.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

One of the most heart-warming stories about Villagers we've heard came to us this week, a Christmas story in its own right. It all started when Dan Dalton, who lives with his wife Betty on Gilman, called us to ask if we would say thank you for him to eight girls who have brought a little Christmas to his wife every week of the year. The girls are Barbara Balbi, Barbara Thiemann, Marjorie Shields, Jenny La Rosa, Cornelia Meitz, Barbara Golladay and Rita Figone. Every Saturday two of them come to the Dalton home to fix Betty's hair, do her nails, and generally lend a helping hand and give a smile. They are all members of the Legion of Mary of Holy Angels Church, and they began their visits on the suggestion of their leader, Eileen Crofton.

The value of these friendly visits to the Daltons is priceless, for Betty has multiple sclerosis, and is totally paralyzed, and Dan, a victim of an accident at work, is also confined to a wheel chair. They met in the hospital in Vallejo, and subsequently were married and "began housekeeping," as Dan put it. In spite of what many of us would feel are limitations, the Dalton enjoy their home together. Radio and TV are Betty's delights, for she can hear what she is unable to see. They are happy to have friends and neighbors drop in often, and cannot say enough to thank the Broadmoor police department for many little services through the years. They also count Dr. Robert Durand, who lives on Larchmont, as much more than just an attending doctor; he is one of their mainstays.

So may we say thank you from the Daltons, to all of these fine people who have really tended about helping them, and may we say thank you, too, from the rest of the Villagers and from us.

Christmas Program

One of the highlights of the season's pre-Christmas days was the program put on by the fifth and sixth grades from Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin schools, who sang carols and read the Bible story for the hundreds of parents and little brothers and sisters who crowded the GV multi-purpose room and stood in the hall outside. Somehow, children singing carols mean Christmas more than anything else possibly could. To Mrs. Vint, Mrs. Ballou, Mrs. Shields, Miss Tretter, Mr. Cody and all the room teachers and mothers who worked so hard to make the program wonderful thing it was, many thanks. And to Miss Suber and Miss Tobias, who are responsible for therein for ¾ of the year, many the schools and all that goes on thanks also.

Down on Stewart, Richard Orloff celebrated his 7th birthday with a luncheon and a trip to the Serra theatre. Guests pleased with this arrangement were Jimmy Helmer, Jimmy Northrup, Chris Goodner, Donny Mitchell, Jay Haymaker, Steve Parker, Mario Rizzo, Johnny Skillman, Jo Ann Bertkins, Kenny Freiberg, and Vocki, Philip, Paul and Jerry Petruzzelli. There were also much in evidence some lovely king-sized balloons, which lasted at least an hour longer than most!

The VFW gals had a canasta party at Nellie Krawetz' Washington street home the other p.m. Attending were Rose Fisher, Evelyn Dull, Jean Suenderman, La Nilta Dunn, Dorothy Goodwin, Bette Cheda, Stella Magoon, Angela Krawetz, and Nellie's mother, Mrs. Ziebak. Incidentally, some of the VFW Auxiliary were mentioned in the guest list of the Legion Auxiliary whist party; it should be noted that they were attending as guests of honor.

Engagements

Larchmont's Timmy Norman came home on leave from his Air Force base in Denver, and subsequently went on to his new station in Southern California, but his status underwent a change while he was here. He now holds the rank of Newly Engaged Man, his fiancee being a UC student.

It would seem that Cupid had a special fondness for Larchmont lately, for Jeanette Daubin became engaged also, to Dick Raser of Nimitz. Theirs was a Thanksgiving engagement, at which time Dick was home on leave from the Navy. Right now he is based at Treasure Island, and Jeanette is busy at Jeff Hi.

We have been finding more and more husbands and fathers around town who are interested in adding innovations to their homes or making furniture or the like. They should see the magnificent job Bing Weitzel did on [illegible] Hayward (he insists in multi-colored Italian marble, and made the copper and wrought iron candelabra above it, and the fireplace tools as well. He also built a copper and black clock face to go with the candelabra, and then built a whole dining room set—chairs, extending table, china cabinet and all, including the copper hinges for the cabinet doors. All shelves and drawers and storage space were specifically designed for their contents, including a place for table pads and extra leaves. Anybody would turn green to see the wardrobe he designed for the bedroom. It takes a whole long wall, with six sliding doors making one symetrical front, but behind those doors are closets, drawers (with special compartments) and a dressing table and full mirror. We'll admit we're envious!

Special Christmas present arrived for Beth and Jim Chambers of Larchmont—their first baby. Young Don Jeffrey weighed in at 6 lbs., 14 oz., and is making his parents very happy indeed, in spite of middle-of-the-nights and extra wash!

Around and About

There's a new station wagon in the Amos Bechtold driveway on Maddux. . . . Shoppers in Kiddieville have no doubt met Wanda Milani scurrying about. . . . Louvaine's Carmel Navarro has parted company with her tonsils. . . . John Price, pianist with the duo (soon to become a trio, we hear) at the hungry i, is the husband of Petria Price, teacher at BF school. When not busy with his piano in the evenings, John is busy with his books during the days as a student at SF state . . . Some corner householders are tch-tching at the behavior of the kids who wait for the bus on those particular corners, especially those who are plenty old enough to know better. Here's a good place for the younger generation to apply a New Year's resolution. . . . The Coppola home on 88th has a special visitor from New Haven, Connecticut, for the holidays—Ralph's mother, Mrs. Lucy Coppola. . . . the bright bows gracing baskets, cartons and boxes in the King's liquor store are the work of Gracia Krueger's nimble fingers.

Neighbors on Larchmont are very happy that Mrs. Voisinet, so badly hurt in a June auto accident, is now up and around on a crutch. In fact, she has even been downtown shopping. While confined to bed, her hours were made happier by visits and gifts of the neighborhood children, whose very good friend she was and is.

A sort of combination birthday and Christmas party with around 24 children as guests came about at the Krawetz home on Washington the day after mother Nellie's canasta party. It started out as a birthday party for Richard, turning 4, and wound up as a general celebration including brothers Jerry and Ronnie and their friends, too. Quite a time was had by everybody, that's for sure!

More Parties

The Pack 84 Den Mothers had a Christmas get-together luncheon at Anita Shanoian's on Edgeworth recently. They all brought something for a gift exchange, and enjoyed some delicious Chinese food, and, of course,. much conversation! DMs in the group included Opal Arnott, Dot Spaulding, Nellie Krawetz, Emma Aiello, Dolly Durand, Edna Spediacci, Alice Duport, Hazel Eagleton, Helen Mahoney, Toni Henry, Mary Contreras, Ruth Moseley, Jean Suenderman, Caroline Bennett, Marge Reutter, Janet Edler, Ruth Stuckey, Lee Fitzpatrick, Lee Johnson, Betty Garner, and Mildred Howell. Claire Vocke and Margaret Stern were invited also, but couldn't manage to make it.

Judy and Stan Wilson, Madduxites, gave a holiday party which was a great deal of fun, with all sorts of novel and interesting instructions on the invitations and equally interesting results! Guests Bob and Rowena Armstrong, Al and Ann McGrath, Agnar and Bessie Nerheim, Johnny and Barbara Bodmer, Bill and Lorraine Scott, Reba and Bill Nye, Bob and Mary Fish, and Norman and Lorraine Johnson had a wonderful time bringing things, playing games and decorating The Thing—a truly remarkable object! Needless to say, it was a highly successful party!

CHAIRMAN for Westlake Catholic Women's spring fashion show and luncheon, "Hyacinth Holiday," February 2 at the Fairmont Hotel, is Mrs. Thomas Daly. Blooming hyacinths in foil decorated containers will adorn each table and bring to mind that spring is really here as the models parade down the runway in latest fashions from Liebes. Mrs. Daly will be commentator for the show. Music will be provided by Tom Ross and his orchestra.

Scout Troop 248 Holds Xmas Fete, 'Court Of Honor'

Boy Scout Troop 248 held its annual "Court of Honor" and Christmas party December 18 at the Clubhouse on Lake Merced boulevard.

Fourteen committeemen were given recognition by Troopmaster Al Belotz, and gardenias went to all their wives in honor of "silent help" in the cause of Scouting. Gifts were also given to Scout mothers Mrs. Marge Wilson, Mrs. Jerry Peterson and Mrs. Juanita Hanley for their tireless efforts. and the Scouts in turn presented Belotz and his assistant, Mel Wilner, with tokens of their regard.

A very impressive induction ceremony was performed for new Tenderfoots Trigg Davis, Steven Grath, Michael Wassler, Danny Hanson, Barney Colangelo, Ricky De Martini and Harry Johnson. Fleur-de-lis pins were presented to their mothers by Belotz.

Second Class ratings were awarded Alan Hanley, Brandt Larson, Tim Pinelli, and Sandy Schoenfeld, and First Class awards given Charles Cully, John Moore, Jim Pinelli and Frank Vlahovich. Three boys earned their Star Scout rank: John Farber, Bruce Wilson, and Mike Silverstein.

'Search For Stars' At OLPH Labeled 'Rousing Success'

A capacity crowd termed the recent "Search For Stars" program at OLPH auditorium "a rousing success" as a stellar cast of youngsters entertained in the finest professional tradition.

The show, presented by San Francisco Moose Lodge No. 26 for the benefit of Scout Troop 242, netted a "nice profit" for the local Scouts, sponsored by OLPH Men's Club.

A spokesman for the Scout Troop this week extended the group's "thanks" to all who made the event so successful.

The Men's Club followed up the Search For Stars extravaganza with a Father's and Children's Christmas party four days later in OLPH Rec Hall. The affair included a visit by Old St. Nick, stage entertainment, and gifts, candy, ice cream and cake for the kiddies.

The Men's Club also announced that its recent paper drive hit expectations. Jim Pierce, 676 Brunswick street, OLPH Junior High School student, received a $5 cash award for collecting the most paper.

Jeff Hi Banquet Draws 100 Folks

Approximately 100 people attended a banquet presented last week in the Jefferson High School cafeteria under the auspices of the district's Classified Employees Association.

Host for the affair was William J. Lewis, association president. A delicious ravioli dinner was prepared by Mrs. Clara M. Donati and John Parodi.

Honored guests included Superintendent and Mrs. Edward D. Morgan, members of the board of trustees, and principals John Mongan and Glenn South.

Community singing and dancing to the music of records followed the dinner.

The Troop 50 Scouts conducted the flag ceremony and assisted Newlon in a tenderfoot investiture ceremony, during which the following boys were initated: Kenneth Lehre, Neil Locke, George Magill, John Quandt, Ricky Fields, Kenneth Gates, Jimmy Henderson and James Soutos. Another short ceremony was held to install Mark Clark, Kenneth Gates and Kenneth Lehre as patrol leaders.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Holiday Revelry Is Subdued In Broadmoor

"Quietest ever" is the way Broadmoor police described the pre-Christmas weekend.

"It was so quiet," said Chief Ray Savage, "we didn't even receive any radio calls." Savage said not a single drunk arrest was made from Friday through Monday. He described the apparent rash of sobriety as unusual at this time of year.

Savage said he hoped the good behavior would extend throughout the holidays but revealed a road block would probably be made "around New Year's" to keep tabs on the alcoholic content of Broadmoor motorists.

Bethel Lutheran Sets New Year's Service

WW Students Draw Capacity For Yule Event

The students of Woodrow Wilson presented their annual Christmas program to a standing-room-only audience last week. Parents and friends were welcomed by Mrs. E. Hahn, principal, who also extended "thank yous" to those assisting in the program, including fifth grader Cathy Kurpieski, who designed the program covers.

The theme of the program, "A Story of the Christmas Carols," was taken from the life of St. Francis and related his influence in the development of the Christmas carols. Many old and seldom heard carols were included as well as some of the more familiar ones. As the carols were sung by the different classroom groups, a tableau of the manger scene was enacted on stage with Cathy Williams as Mary; Bill Green as Joseph; Lynette Mudge as the Angel; Paul Detrick, Dennis Fife, and Dale Westrom as the Three Kings; and Donald Davies, John Dziacko, and Gary Gieseker as the Three Shepherds. The life of St. Francis and the history of the carols was read between each carol selection by Francis Fletcher, Robert Lopez, Carol Derungs, and Cheryl Hjelle.

After the program, as parents escorted their children from the classrooms, they viewed a display of the students' Christmas projects.

Cubs Decorate Trees At Pack 240 Party

Cub Pack 240, sponsored by the Daly City Rotary club, held its Christmas party Saturday at the Westlake Clubhouse.

A small tree was provided for each den and decorated by the boys with ornaments made at their den meetings. Den 1 was awarded the honor plaque for the most original ornaments. Christmas songs and carols were then sung by each den.

Honard Stites, Institutional Representative, gave a short congratulatory speech pack's "fine progress" since organizing last April.

"Santa Claus" then entered and passed out gifts to all the children present. The decorated trees and other den Christmas projects were taken to the San Francisco county hospital for the enjoyment of patients.

COUNTY-WIDE LEGAL REFERENCE SERVICE STARTS NEXT WEEK

A Lawyer's Reference Service for San Mateo County residents will be put into effect next Wednesday, it was announced today by Dennis Hession, retiring president of the San Mateo County Bar Association.

"This new referral service will make it easy for anyone with a legal problem to immediately contact a competent attorney," Hession said. "It will be available to anyone who has not previously retained an attorney in the same matter."

Cost of the initial conference is $5. There will be no other charge for this meeting.

A large number of attorneys, representing each of the county's municipal districts, have agreed to serve on the county-wide referral panel for 1957.

Headquarters for the new service will be located in the court reporters' office at the San Mateo County Hall of Justice in Redwood City.

Rank Caps, Scots, Jeff Tops As NPAL Cage Debuts Near

MAMMOTH Bob St. Clair, towering tackle for the San Francisco 49ers, was on hand at Cub Pack 347's Christmas party to answer questions on the sport from the unit's future football hopefuls. Getting a big lift from the 270-pounder are Cubs Hunt Ewing (left) and Dennie Macango. The Pack is sponsored by the Westlake Catholic Men's and Women's clubs.

Capuchino, Carlmont or Jeff—take you're pick, and you've got the next North PAL basketball champion.

This is the concensus opinion of league coaches as the cagers await the opening gun next Friday.

The mentors predict a three-way race this time, and aren't going out on a limb. They look for a tight scramble, with no outstanding team, but a flock of good contenders.

Caps Loaded

Capuchino, the San Bruno school with the mounting prep reputation, appears to have the biggest edge . . . thanks to their 6-7 center, Gary Estabrook, and a squad that doesn't have a man under 6-1.

Estabrook, a kid who's getting smoother as he goes, holds the answer to Cap's title hopes. Besides ruling the backboards, the skyscraper is a fine tip-in man and his hook is "dangerous," enthuses Coach Jim Johnson.

Cap's second big gun is guard Fred Gomez, 6-1, a good outside shooter and the team's ball hawk. His partner is John Condron, All-PAL 30's last year, who steps in as one of the best newcomers in the league.

Norm Wilken and Nick Uren are two steady forwards, rounding out a well-knit contingent.

Exhibition-wise, the Caps haven't been too impressive. But their 5-4 prectice record may be deceiving. When the chips are down, Johnson thinks his boys will live up to expectations.

Scots Surprise

Carlmont, perennial low member on the league totem pole, is a surprise threat. No one counted the Scots in the scramble until they grabbed the Santa Cruz Invitational last week, making them the hottest unit on the Peninsula.

The Scots, 6-2 thus far, have warmed up with wins over Serra, St. Ignatius, Salinas, Palo Alto and Watsonville. Their rise to prominence came after they lost a double overtime verdict to Sequoia and another closie to Los Altos.

Coach Verl Thornlock's clutch performers are Andy Sommer and Craig Barrett, two '55 regulars, and sophomore center Chris Jessen, rugged product of the football team.

Tribe Confident

Jeff, on paper at least, could go all the way. Forward Larry Pottinger, 6-4, gives boss Mike Orlich good reason for optimism. Larry is headed for his greatest year, rolling along at a phenomenal clip. He's bagged 103 points in seven games. And the deadly southpaw is the top college prospect in the area.

Orlich is well fixed at the other forward slot in the person of rangy Bob Comstock, 6-2, a consistent point-getter.

Gridder Tom Cloutier, 6-4, another returnee, has the confidence and weight to hold his own with pivot rivals. After a slow start, Tom is hitting the hoop with regularity. He's backed up by Dennis Marc, a promising neophyte.

Jeff's punch at guard comes from three dependables, Delmar Scott, 6-3, and two hustlers, Barry Haanen and Gary Ryan.

The Tribe met Mission of SF yesterday in their last practice game. Their lid-lifting foe next Friday night here will be defending champion San Mateo, a squad hit hard by graduation but still a darkhorse.

Bearcats Hopeful

Ed Burda, Bearcat tutor, isn't counting his boys out of the crown chase. "I figure the team that wins it will have at least two defeats. We'll be fight up there."

San Mateo's mainstays are forwards Al Holmes and Terry Curley, 6-footers, and 6-3 Dave Langrock, a high-tallying center.

Burlingame, sporting a dismal 1-5 practice mark, also has a 6-7 center. But Chris Agorastos, the big lad, needs lots of improvement to make his quint a serious contender. Best shots in the Blingum camp are forwards Angelo Casini, Jim Sherman and Tom Chase.

Appeared destined for the second division are South City and Hillsdale. The Warriors lack height, depth and experience, attested by their winless status as of this week.

Hillsdale makes its debut with a first-year problem. The Knights are eager but need maturity.

Westmoor Quints Duel HMB Squads Next Friday Nite

Taking a long holiday rest, Westmoor's varsity and 30's cagers resume their practice wars next Friday night against Half Moon Bay on the Coastsiders' court. First game starts at 7 p.m.

The Ram varsity, headed by pacesetter Rich Lewetzou, has a 0-3 record to date. They fell to Lick-Wilmerding twice and lost to Lincoln's jayvees.

Westmoor's lightweights are 2-1, with wins over L-W and a loss to the Lincoln juniors.

Knee Surgery Mends Jeff's Ed Leveroni

Ed Leveroni, popular halfback on the Jefferson football varsity, returned home for the holidays this week after knee surgery at St. Mary's hospital.

The luckless senior, sidelined in the Hillsdale game, was hospitalized 10 days.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leveroni, 167 Mateo avenue.

BAY BRIDGE TOLLS

Tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge for passenger cars started at 65 cents. Later they were reduced to 50, 40, 35, 30 and 25 cents, reports the California State Automobile Association. The reduction to 25 cents was made in 1940.

AUTO SAFETY WITH GUNS

Since a lot of us are going hunting these days, the National Automobile Club has come up with some reminders for the safe handling of guns in cars. Hunter motorists should unload the gun before putting it in the car. Don't take anyone's word for it. Make sure that you do the unloading yourself. Suggestion number two asks that you wrap or case your gun. It won't get damaged or dirty if it is cased, and the unloaded gun can't be fired accidentally. Also, lock the gun in your trunk. Your companions won't be tempted to try it out in the car, and you won't be tempted to take a quickie from the car on the highway. Finally, keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction. Exercise special care when putting the gun in the car or taking it out and handle all guns by the stock only.

SCRIBE RISKS BOWL INFAMY

By Roy Hurlbert

Hopping on the bandwagon with millions of plain old arm chair quarterbacks, THE RECORD sports staff today humbly offers its peerless picks on the nation's major football bowl games.

Based on objectivity and just a tint of partiality, we submit the following sure things (famous last words):

EAST-WEST

One of the strongest casts in Shrine game history. The Easterners have everything, including Paul Hornung, probably the best all-around big-timer in the sport. But anything goes, and we like John Brodie and Company to stop Mr. Brennan's huskies. Let's settle for a 20-14 West win, on the strength of Brodie's slingshot and Jon Arnett's pistons.

GATOR BOWL

A good game for the first half. Jaw Jaw Tech and Coach Bobby Dodd have too much savvy for a good Pittsburgh team. Remember, the Engineers know the bowl business backwards. And their only loss was a 6-0 tear-dripper to Tennessee. We like the Georgia boys by a three touchdown spread. Maybe 27-6.

ROSE BOWL

Iowa's from the Big 10 where they play football, and Oregon State is from the PCC where they just play. We know the Beavers only lost by a point to the Hawkeyes a coupie of months ago. But the handwriting is all over the wall. Iowa, who breezed past the Big Ten's murderers' row, should be much the wiser this time around. The invaders won't be surprised and know what to expect. Oregon State hits the trail of all PCC bridesmaids, losing by a 20-6 tally.

SUGAR BOWL

Baylor will wish the eyes of Texas were elsewhere after Tennessee gets through with the Bears. The unbeaten Vols may turn it into a track meet. Johnny Majors is good for at least a pair of scores. Pity the cadillac kids for the cow country. Tennessee by 27-0.

COTTON BOWL

Syracuse can't win, but they'll go down fighting in enemy territory. TCU seldom disappoints the home folks. On their last bowl trip, the Orangemen were trampled by Alabama, 61-6. They're eager to make amends, but the Horned Frogs figure to get the job done in style. TCU and Jim Swink roll, 19-7.

ORANGE BOWL

This could be a corker despite the "also-ran" status of both Clemson and Colorado. Miami's a long way from Pike's Peak and the Buffaloes may get lonesome. All the Rebels in Dixie will stand or fall with the Tigers. Clemson squeaks by, 14-13, in a battle to end all battles.

PRO PLAYOFF

We've admired the Giants since the days of Loudmouth Leo, the baseball Bum. Same goes for their grid brothers. Going against the odds, we forecast a setback for the awesome Chicago Bears. The men of Gotham to prevail as pro kings, 28-21.
